

Holy Innocents' Parish day 7th July 2019

Theme of the Parish Day:

Journeying together as disciples in a permanent state of mission

Mass began at 11am in the Church. There was a sea of vibrant colour with so many parishioners wearing their national dress. Young children eagerly listening to Father Victor's homily encouraging them to talk to others of their faith. The children who had recently celebrated their First Holy Communion reunited to sing their Holy Communion Song especially written by Pat Morrissey.

Little children eagerly banging their musical instruments for the glory of the Lord. In buoyant mood after the Mass we congregated in the school hall ready to feast on an array of delicious food recipes from around the world, generously donated by parishioners.

Holy Innocents' Parish day 7th July 2019

Some ladies from Nigeria sang traditional songs

Sheney entertains us all and..... here she is seen with her family, husband Mike and two little girls.

An enriching day for all, with enough food for the 5,000 it seemed.

Praise be to God for His glory and giving us such a vibrant parish with so many willing to care for each other.

Thank you to all who organised the day in any way, prepared and brought food or drink.

A family of God, diverse in nationality and culture, but united in faith and love.
